It's unfortunate that something as simple as file incompatibility between operating systems would affect the client's evaluation of our services. When I met with the client a few days after the wedding, she said that everything was perfect and seemed very pleased, stating she would recommend us to anyone needing a DJ. I can only assume this had something to do with the file, which is out of my control. I directed her to a free program that would play her slide show after googling the problem.

Comments:

Very Professional. Played requested music.

May we use your feedback on our website? Yes No
